Amphitheaters

Manuel Alvarez Diestro
(1972, Santander, Spain)

Hong-Kong's density, far from the city center. The world of the living and the world of dead.

Cemeteries resembled ancient amphitheaters, them have ancestral qualities that contrast with the modern city; parallel worlds that coexist together in a harmonious relationship.

Manuel Alvarez currently lives in London. For the previous past two decades he lived in Algiers, Beirut, Casablanca, New York, San Francisco, Paris, Los Angeles, Madrid and most recently in Cairo.
